Using a variety of basic and advanced massage movements, you will learn how to perform a professional body massage. Acupressure points will be incorporated in the massage routine which will help with many common ailments and promote healing in the body.

During a pre-treatment consultation, you will be shown how to adapt your massage to suit the needs for a range of clients. You will gain experience performing massage movements on a range of clients.

The GTI Body Massage course follows the National Occupational Standards. It also covers anatomy & physiology, contra-indications and contra-actions, skin conditions, preparing for the treatment, massage techniques and a full body massage routine.

Online modules are required to be completed ideally before your practical training. You will have access on The Beauty Guild website to access all the course material you will need in order to complete these modules.

Body Massage Training Course Covers:

- Massage movements and modifications
- Advanced massage movements
- Facial and scalp massage
- Mechanical massage and use of heat
- Postural faults and diagnosis
- Massage mediums
- Practical tuition on performing Swedish body massage
- Incorporating Infra-Red Heat to your massage treatment
